2010 School Facilities Critical Issues One Day Training Summit

Each and every day educational professionals strive to provide New York State's school children a strong education. School facilities professionals work to sustain these campuses, ensuring safe, clean, healthy learning environments for students and communities.

With today's rocky economic climate, we must look to additional resources to continue providing safe, clean, healthy learning environments for our students. Join SFMI, SED and NYSERDA as we examine best practices; explore new funding opportunities and walk away with practical techniques for sustaining excellent learning environments for school districts around the state.

The program will open with welcoming remarks from the new Commissioner of Education, Dr. David Steiner. Learn more about his "Agenda for Education Reform" and hear firsthand from Commissioner Steiner how the current fiscal climate is impacting education.

Join other key representatives to participate in discussions on:

- The Future of Building Aid in New York State
- Capitalizing on Your Building Condition Surveys
- Tips for Successfully Creating and Implementing Energy Performance Contracts

Receive the latest updates from State Education Department, School Facility Directors and local representatives! Gather the tools you will need to facilitate operating and maintaining learning environments that are resource-efficient, healthy, comfortable and contain the amenities needed for a safe, quality education.

If you are a/an:

- Superintendent of School Buildings and Grounds
- Facilities Director
- School Business Official
- School Board Member
- School Superintendent
- Support Staff
- Architect
- Engineer

Don't miss this unique opportunity to be in one place with experts in the field that impact you the most. SFMI has partnered with NYSED and NYSERDA to bring the most comprehensive program that will provide immediate tips and techniques to bring back to school districts. Representatives from SED, NYSERDA, NYPA, LIPA, OGS and others will be on hand to answer any questions that will help prepare school facilities directors for the road ahead.

*Commissioner Steiner has been invited to join us.
